Common sense should not be uncommon in Oxnard. Smart leadership will reduce crime, improve essential services, and create effective budgets with adequate reserves.

LEADERSHIP requires making wise budget decisions, not thoughtless, damaging, and arbitrary cuts. My private-sector experience in helping businesses work more effectively applies directly to the improved city government efficiencies that we as taxpayers want to see.

FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY provides structure and resources for Oxnard to be a full service city. Nobody wants to pay too much tax, but we must fund a city that meets our needs.

TRUST means returning to a transparent City Council that is open and responsive, demonstrating ethical leadership that the city deserves.

My successful 20-year military career as a US Navy Captain, and now small business owner, provided the experience and proven skills I demonstrate as a member of the City Planning Commission and other community Boards to help retain local jobs.

Oxnard can be a great, well-run city again, but it is going to take work. I am ready to take on the challenge, roll up my sleeves and work with you to get the job done!

I'd be honored to earn your vote.
